

National Association of State Aviation Officials

Health and Safety Information

NASAO's highest priority is the health and safety of all event participants. NASAO will continue to monitor CDC guidance on recommended COVID-19 protocols and onsite precautions. As new developments arise, our approach will adapt, and we will keep the NASAO community informed of any changes. Any requirements for convention participants will be communicated prior to the start of the event and detailed on this page. By registering to attend the 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow, you are consenting to comply with the health and safety protocols of NASAO, the Hyatt Regency Greenville, and/or federal, state, and local health officials.

Face Coverings

Masks are not expected to be required at the 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow. However, guidance from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention states that masks can help protect the wearer and others from COVID-19. Review CDC Use and Care of Masks.

Important COVID-19 Information

COVID-19, a highly infectious disease caused by the novel coronavirus, is currently classified as a pandemic by public health authorities. It is associated with severe symptoms including acute respiratory issues, severe damage to lungs and other organs and death. According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), COVID-19 is thought to spread mainly from person-to-person, and individuals over age 65 and people of any age who have certain underlying medical conditions are at higher risk for severe illness from COVID-19. COVID-19 is not fully understood at this time, and understanding of the symptoms, risks and spread of the disease may change over time. Although NASAO will take all reasonable safety precautions to protect the health of participants, NASAO cannot guarantee that participants will not be exposed to COVID-19 during attendance at the event.

COVID-19 Liability Waiver/Assumption of Risk

All participants at the 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow acknowledge that their participation is completely voluntary and that they understand the dangers of COVID-19 and the risks of exposure described above. All participants further acknowledge that they assume all risks associated with COVID-19 in connection with attendance at 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow, including risks to their own health and the health of others with whom they may come in contact during or after 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow ("Assumed Risks"). Additionally, all participants at 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow agree, on behalf of themselves, their heirs and assigns, and anyone who might assert a claim on their behalf, to release, indemnify and hold harmless NASAO, the 2022 NASAO Annual Convention and Tradeshow venues, NASAO partners and their respective owners, directors, officers, employees, representatives, heirs and assigns from any and all liability, claims or causes of action that may be released under applicable law arising from or relating to the Assumed Risks. This release includes any claims for personal injury, disease, death, property loss or any other loss, including but not limited to claims of negligence and any right to seek damages.
